St. Julian's Church Hall provides newly updated and extended facilities within a short distance of St Albans city centre.

The church, hall and accompanying facilities are of modern design, having been built in 1956.

In March 2010, the newly extended kitchen and vestibule became available for use.

The hall, vestibule, kitchen and toilets comprise approximately 132sq. m. and the hall will accommodate around 50 - 60 people seated.

The kitchen equipment includes dishwasher, microwave, fridge and freezer, as well as the usual kettles, crockery and cutlery etc.

There is disabled access to the hall complex as well as lavatory facilities for the disabled.

Car parking space is available within the church grounds, but roadside parking is also available as there are no parking restrictions in this area.
